More Loot Recovered in B & E's

According to Sheriff Curt Haas, the value of stolen wods, recovered as a result of investigation and solving a recent, multi-county B & E crime spree, has now topped the $80,000 mark. As of Monday, 324 B & E's are believed to have been involved. These arrests have been made and the investigation continues with much more stolen property likely to be recovered, Haas said.

Haas also indicated that information received from general public has been most helpful in the solution of e case and location of stolen goods. "We'd appreciate a continuing response on the part of concerned citizens," he said Monday, "suspicious activity should be reported to our department immediately and information received will naturally be kept confidential.'

Last week was a busy one for the sheriff's dept. with eputies responding to over 50 calls. Twenty-five traffic cidents were investigated, 7 larcenies, 3 careless use of firearm complaints, just to name a few. The ambulance made two runs during the week.

Time To "Fall Back"

You can take an extra hour "out on the town" this Saturday night and not lose any sleep over it if you want. Michigan officially goes back to Eastern Standard Time at 2:00 a.m. this Sunday morning. Now you can go to work when it's light and to bed when it's dark.

Don't forget to set your clock before turning in Saturday and get that "extra hour's worth" you've been looking forward to since April.

Laughter Anyone?

Mouse to 'Roar' This Weekend

Carrying its full quota of roars, of laughter that is, the comedy hit "The Mouse That Roared" will arrive at Grayling's Joseph Stripe Auditorium this weekend for a three performance run. The production is being staged by the Grayling High School Players with performances scheduled for 8:15 p.m. on Friday and Saturday evenings and 2:15 on Sunday afternoon. General admission tickets will be available at the door or they may be purchased in advance from any member of the cast, at the Credit Union. Northern National Bank or any drive-in window of the Grayling State Bank.

The play's hilarities develop from its story of an absolutely nutty little war that is lought between the world's tiniest nation, the Duchy of Grand Fenwick, and the United States. Grand Fenwick is mad at the United States because a California wine-maker has imitated the label of the Fenwickian wine, which is their only item of export, and thus, the basis of their entire economy.

After objections from the tiny country to the U.S. State Department go unanswered, the Prime Minister and the Grand Duchess decide to show the world that they mean business and openly attack the United States. Of course, they have no intention of winning. In fact, the plan is to lose so that they can be the subject of the lavish foreigh aid which the U.S. is known to bestow upon their defeated enemies. To reach this desirable situation, the prime minister sends the entire Fenwickian army to invade New York City, a force of 24 men armed with bows and arrows. Problems begin to appear for the tiny nation when they neglect to inform their commander in chief that he is supposed to lose the war and he ends up capturing a weird professor who has just invented a bomb more powerful than the atomic bomb.

The topsy-turvy antics of the characters of "The Mouse That Roared" must be seen to be appreciated. It is (See Mouse on page 12)

"We just had a lot of great plays." commented Coach Klinger in savoring the victory, "this is a team that never gives up and comes up with that big play when we need it." The Vikes will head north to the lakeshore this Friday to tangle with the Rogers City Hurons in another league contest.

dramatic Friday night lifted the Vike season record to 5 - 2 and league mark to 3.2, althe best season under Klinger's tenure as head coach.

St. Ignace won the toss and elected to receive the opening kickoff, and moved toward mid-field before Grayling's Bill Roach picked off a Saint pass on the 46-yd. line. It appeared the Vikes might strike early after taking possession when a Junttila to Bill Lucksted pass Grayling on the Saint 13yd. line. But the scoring threat failed when St. Ignace intercepted a Viking aerial on the three and returned to their own 35yd. line. Hard running by St. Ignace backs chewed up yardage until tailback Ron Martin, with 4:27 left in the 1st quarter, cracked over-from the 6-yd. stripe to draw first blood for the Saints. Gen-Tel Plans $13 Million Program In Northern Area

GAYLORD - Improved calls, Reagan said. telephone service is the objective of General Telephone's plan to invest $13 million in telephone equipment during 1980 for 37 northern Michigan exchanges, according to Lois Reagan, the company's northern division manager. Telephone's General 1980 service improvement and expansion program will enable a larger number of customers to place more calls, Reagan' said, and these calls will be handled with greater efficiency. Company to Invest

$13 Million

Customers in the northern division are expected to make 211.168.000 local calls and 15 581,000 longdistance calls during 1980, Reagan said. That is 7.5 million more calls - 6.6 million local and 882,000 long-distance - than will have been placed in 1979.

To meet this customer demand and improve service, the company will spend $13 million on projects in the 37 exchanges that make up the division.

The exchanges are in 18 counties: Alcona, Alpena, Antrim, Baraga, Charle-voix, Cheboygan, Chippewa, Crawford, Delta, Kalkaska, Mackinac, Missaukee, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego. Presque Isle, Roscommon and Schoolcraft

A $74,300 central office building addition in Higgins Lake will be completed in 1980 to house telephone equipment, Reagan noted. Two other building additions (Atlanta, $85,300 and Gulliver, $31,300) should be finished in 1981.

About 80 percent of the cables General Telephone installs are buried or placed in conduit, Reagan said.

As many as eight exchanges in the northern division could have new systems in service by 1983. she said. The systems, which will replace "electromechanical" equipment, process telephone calls faster and with greater efficiency and accuracy.

General Telephone has earmarked $4.8 million for northern division electronic projects over the next several years, although the specific offices to receive the new equipment have not yet been designated.

Tools, Vehicles Needed Trucks, cars, office equipment and major tools such as ditchers, trenchers, cable plows, trailers and portable generators to support service in the have division been budgeted at $624,400 for 1980.

Overall, General Telephone has more than $88.8 million invested in land, buildings, equipment and tools in the division, Reagan concluded.

Madness to Strike Downtown Grayling

Downtown Grayling is celebrating Halloween in a very festive way this year, with 13 hours of madness and 7 days of mayhem.

Should you happen to be in any of the stores between October 24th and October 31st you might notice some very unusual displays. Not just the traditional Jack-O-Lanterns, witches and skeletons, but coffins. Yes, coffins. Naturally the lids on these boxes will be closed until the time the merchants deem it right for you to view their "remains". And that, of course, will be at 7:00 p.m. on Saturday the 27th when the "wakes" begin and Moonlight Madness starts. But the coffins, filled with bargains, are just the beginning. There is Dracula who will be wandering the streets, offering people his autograph, passing out entry blanks, and searching for a beautiful bride

Also roaming the streets, in addition to the usual ghosts, monsters and vampires, will be the Phantom Photographer, not so inconspicuously weaving amid downtown shoppers "developing" his victims. And prizes? Grab bag winners all day, and $100 in cash. There is a $50 cash prize for coming closest to guessing the number of seeds in a pumpkin, $35 given away in a 10:00 pumpkin carving contest, and $15 during the 1:00 'Mummy Wrapping Race'', which has already generated excitement and is sure to attract a large crowd. Here, each contestant is given a roll of toilet paper with which they wrap a friend

Other events include free hay rides to the haunted house, and a 7:00 staged wedding between Dracula and his bride, with Judge Emil Kraus performing the ceremony.

From Our Corner ...

We've been contemplating one or our usual plan columns, only to irritate our friend Irv McIsaac ... He told us the last time if we did it again he was going to stop buying the Snow Slide ... Grayling High School enjoyed a complete and satisfying Homecoming last week, full of many activities, which was climaxed with the naming of the new queen and a sweet victory over the St. Ignace Saints Friday

We wish to give the Tip of Our Hat to the student body for their fine enthusiasm without incident ... We congratulate the new Queen, Sue Nicholas on her selection ... to the Viking gridders in their heart-arrest victory over the Saint Ignace Saints whereby the Homecoming was climaxed with a 15-14 victory, and to the coaches who work hard preparing the players for each and every

It is with activities like this ... it makes living in Grayling enjoyable ...

We are not an alumnus of Grayling High School Our colors were blue and gold, not green and white ... Anyhow, we were unable to attend GHS's Homecoming Party at Auman's on Saturday evening, but through Clara Sorenson, our Alumni correspondent for the green and white, we learned that Bill Joseph was honored at their festivities...

When we found out, our first thought was how come it has taken this long to recognize one of Grayling's natives who has worked for umpteen years for the betterment of the school system, from which he was a Bill hangs his hat down at the Grayling Mercantile .. That is, when he's not duck hunting or at a style show or around making life miserable for the Leprechaun ...

For what it's worth, we would like to state, the green and white could not have picked a finer recipient to bestow the honor If we both live long enough, Bill may become a Grayling General, and we will pass the test of being a native by Bill and Clyde Borchers ... We can't blame them ... who wants blue and gold mixed with green and white...

Right now, (Monday evening), we hate to even think how nice it is outside ... Even with the rain it is almost like spring time \dots We interject this only for our readers of the archives some years later ... For our late readers, this is October 22, one week and two days before the goblins come ... and could very well be two days before snow becomes our companion for the next five months ... Where did summer go?

We were too interested in finishing this turkey for this evening, we skipped over another thought concerning Bill Joseph ... Not only has he had the school system at heart ... he also has worked hard, without any fanfare, to help in the betterment of the City of Grayling ..

Our tip of the derby to Bill ... Have a nice weekend ... Let's hope the goblins are sane come the bewitching

The Bible Speaks From Calvary Baptist Church

THE END OF OLD TESTAMENT LAW Galatians 3:23-29

The nation of Israel was kept under the laws given through Moses until the coming of faith in the grace and truth of Jesus Christ was revealed. "But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed." Gal 3:23. "For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ." John 1:17. Because the Jews rejected living a Godly life based upon the promises of God's grace alone, God placed them under the bondage of the law to restrain their sin and bring them to repentance of sin.

The end purpose of God's O.T. laws was to teach man his sinfulness and his need to turn to Jesus Christ for justification by faith alone. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, That we might be justified by faith." Gal 3:24.

Once the law fulfilled the purpose it was given and men turned to Christ, they were freed from the Old Testament laws. "But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster." Gal 3:25.

It doesn't matter if one is a Jew, Gentile or bears any other national, racial or ethnic label, God's salvawhereby human beings are born-again into the family of God is always by faith in Jesus Christ alone. "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus." Gal 3:26.

If you have seen yourself as a sinner under God's law as all men are, Galatians 3:22, and have asked Jesus Christ to forgive you of all your sins and to enter your heart by faith, Galatians 3:26, then you have been baptized by the Holy Spirit unto the body of Christ, Galatians 3:27. "For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into One Spirit." I Cor. 12:12,13. "There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all

one in Christ Jesus." Gal

We are reminded in this section of a clear principle: 'God always saves by grace and rules by law." Being saved by grace does not mean man is totally free from all God's laws. Today, we are free from the Old Testament laws, but God has given us many laws in the New Testament which should govern our daily conduct. All of us are saved by believing God's Word alone: "And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.' Gal 3:29. It doesn't matter if it be Adam, Abraham, Jews, Gentiles, you or me. we are all saved only one way, by faith in the finished work of Jesus Christ as revealed in the Bible. (adv.) Pastor Barnett

AARP Meeting

The Crawford County Chapter 1681 of the American Association of Retired Persons held the October meeting Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center. Thirty-six persons attended. President, Ed Lobdell conducted the business meeting, and Angela Kirkum had charge of the program. Sergio Roleles, an exchange student from Mexico, who is here for a year to learn English, and is making his home with the Trudgeon family, entertained. He played the guitar and sang for the group, which we enjoyed very much. Walt Nowak, from the Chamber of Commerce, gave a report on the activities of the chamber, which was most interesting. A Christmas party was planned for December 10th, with a gift exchange and a potluck dinner at 5 p.m. Coffee and cookies were served by Lillian Smith, Velma Lobdell and Angella Kirkum.

Mid-Mitten Chapter held their first open-house rehearsal at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Grayling on Wednesday, October 17th. The last week of October no regular rehearsal will be held because of Halloween falling on our regular rehearsal night. Many of our members, including our director, are committed to their young children on this "spooky" evening. The girls who can attend will meet Tuesday, in full costume, for their own Halloween Party at the home of Clara Handy.

Wednesday, Starting Wednesday, November 7th, rehearsals be held at the Methodist Church in Houghton Lake. All interested girls who have visited us these last weeks. and even those who couldn't make one of our open-houses, are urged to join us. We have voted on our theme for our next annual show to be held the fall of 1980. The theme is "Toyland" and we will begin immediately learning new songs for the show.

Testing of 4th, 7th and 10th Grades Finished

The Crawford AuSable Schools have recently com-pleted testing the 4th, 7th and 10th grade students in minimal math and reading State objectives. The Michigan Dept. of Education requires this testing be done each Fall. The Michigan Education Assessment Program is but one of the indicators the district uses to evaluate the learning of reading and math by the district students.

The tests are untimed and usually take a student about 3 hours to complete both parts. They were given during the weeks of September 17th - October 5th. They are presently at a scoring service, paid for by the Michigan Department of Education.

The district will be receiving the scores sometime early in November. These results will be available for each parent of 4th, 7th and 10th grade students. Each school will be participating in some kind of an informational meeting to further explain the Michigan Educational Assessment Program. Parents of participating students will be informed of a meeting in the near future.

The results are studied each year by the district staff. Changes in class offerings and class content are often direct results of high and low points in our testing scores. The district staff has also put together reading and math objectives which will be used in conjunction with this test. These objectives could be looked at as short term math and reading goals set up in a step-by-step fash-

Individual student reports are given to parents and teachers. These results can help a teacher tailor a learning program to an individual child's needs.

The test results can help a parent pinpoint areas of concern which could then be discussed with the child's teacher. A parent can also help a child by: Encouraging the child to attend school regularly. Expressing interest in his school assignments. Giving the child his own place and time to study at home. Encouraging the child to do his best in school.

Elementary School News

We would like to thank Mr. Charles Johnson of the Bay City Times for donating the mini pages to several classes in the Grayling Elementary School. Once a week the mini pages come in the Bay City Times. It's full of interesting stories and fun, such as puzzles, games, recipes, and word search. Mr. Johnson is the father of one of your third grade teachers, Miss Johnson. (Written by Dena Thayer, fourth grade). Mr. Nunn was showing the Alaskan movies Thursday. I really liked the otter and the ram. The otter was swimming on his back. He had a rock in one hand, a shell in the other. He was trying to crack the shell with the rock. The ram was standing on the side of the hill. (Written by Steve Belcher, 4th grade).

Thursday morning our principal, Mr. Nunn, brought in some slides about Alaska. They were really exciting. He had some slides of glaciers and Mt. McKinley and the road that they took to Alaska. He showed us how the Indians fished for salmon and some Alsakan yo yos. (Written by John Schilbe, 4th grade).

Thursday, Mr. Nunn came and showed us slides about Alaska. He showed us about the mountains and streams and salmon. He showed us a grizzly bear in a campground. They saw a mountain goat on the side of the mountain. He showed us an Eskimo yo yo. I liked the icebergs. (Written b Jessie Riness, 4th grade).

Bill Joseph Honored By G.H.S. Alumni

Something new this year ... we had a surprise pre-sentation for our chosen Honor Alumnus, Bill Joseph, '37. In the absence of President, Tony Doremire, 57, he had consented to be our M.C. for the Annual Homecoming Dinner Program. We knew he would be present, his family was all here. It was well-kept secret. Bill was chosen for his dedication to the School Board for 23 years, starting in the 50's and continuing to 1976 (with time out for sick leave). He acted in the capacity of Treasurer, Secretary, Président.

His whole background has been influenced by G.H.S. His father was an active School Board member, his aunt, Margaret, '15, was a teacher here; his sister, Mary Knibbs, '40, is an Elementary School teacher here now.

Though he had 2 years at Cleary College, 2 years at Michigan State, his ties with the "Green and White" are strong. We thank Bill for representing us during his association with 3 Superintendents, Frank Bond, Joseph Stripe, Fraser Dean. His gift from us was a "Collage Frame", filled with family pictures. (with the help of his daughter, Marilyn). In attendance were his wife, Marian; her mother, Mrs. Huntington; his son, Bill, '64, and wife, Linda; his daughter, Marilyn, '67 and her husband, George Stancil, '66; his son, Richard, '75; his sister, Mary Knibbs, '40. This is a proud G.H.S. Family.

A complete coverage of our Homecoming will continue next week. by Clara Sorenson

The halftime activities were highlighted with the crowning of Miss Sue Nicholas as the '79 Homecoming Queen. She reigned over the weekend activities ending with the annual Dance Homecoming Saturday night. The '79 Spirit Award went to the Senior class, capping a week of competition by the student body. The senior float was also judged best. winning narrowly over the Junior float. And all throughout the halftime, the Viking Marching Band, directed by Robert Harris, entertained the overflow crowd.

The Vikes scored again the third quarter when QB John Junttila hit Todd Dunckley near sidelines with a flare-out pass. Dunckley weaved his way 45 yards, taking advantage of his blockers, for the Viking TD. His x-point kick upped the score to 15-

The Saints had an opportunity to tie the score late in the 3rd quarter when they scored again with Wayne Farrian going in from 6-yds. out. They ignored the kick, though, and tried a 2-pt. pass play that was expertly knocked aside by Tim Jones in the endzone. "We got instructions for our defense on that play from our coaching staff upstairs in the pressbox," Klinger commented later.

That was it for scoring and set the stage for the drama that St. Ignace created with their late drive that left them just three yards short of vic-

Klinger praised defensive unit for their outstanding work singling out Matt Mahaney "for the inspiration he provides the team". Mahaney was in on 13 tackles, Terry Lucksted, 11, Bill Lucksted and George Bindschatel, 10 apiece. "Tim Jones had two big plays in the contest and Billy Lucksted may have saved the game for us with a tackle in that last Saint drive," Klinger said, 'defensive couch Don Ferguson always has them ready to pull off the big Klinger again credited his specialty units for their work. "Coach Fred Wolcott works with them five days a week," he said, "and they worked hard on the play that broke Lucksted loose for the TD.'

Grayling racked up 197 offensive yards, 104 rushing and 93 passing. Jerry and Bill Lucksted, along with Todd Dunckley were leading groundgain ers for the Vikes. QB Junttila hit on three of nine passes, two to Dunckley and one to Bill Lucksted.

Looking toward Rogers City, Klinger tabbed the Hurons as a "big team with a good passing game we'll have to stop to win".

The JV squad traveled to St. Ignace Thursday night and were shut out, 14-0.

The Grayling girl's basketball squad hosted two conference foes last week, but came out on the short. end of both contests. Charlevoix was in town Tuesday night and erupted late in the fourth quarter to claim a 7-point margin over the Vikes. The squads were deadlocked at the half and with four minutes left in the contest, Grayling captured the lead, albeit shortlived, only to have Charlevoix pump in five quick baskets, one at the buzzer, to cap a 26-pt. game-winning quarter. Grayling its best overall game of the year, despite the loss, to a good, tall Charlevoix club, tied for 1st place in the league.

Regina Methner hauled down 19 rebounds and pumped in 14 points for the likes, and Karen Hanson led in scoring with seventeen, while grabbing nine

State Trooper Honored

Kirtland graduate State Trooper John Wilson was honored recently as an outstanding Sanilac County resident. Trooper Wilson and a Sanduskey policeman both worked together to save a man from choking to death. They performed the Hemlig method to free the throat from an obstruction, and started the man breathing again.

John Wilson is a 1976 graduate of the Law Enforcement Program at Kirtland Community College. Mr. & Mrs. Boyd Wilson of St. Helen are the parents of the young man.

Retaining the CETA Jobs Just before I was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives, Congress passed a law limiting the length of time a person could be employed through the CETA program to 18 months.

For many people, September 30 represented the last day they could work under the CETA program.
The idea behind the 18-month provision is probably a good one. CETA was created as a job training program-temporary public jobs administered by state and local governments. Because there was never a time limit on the term of employment enforced. many governments came to rely upon CETA workers to fill needed positions. Laying off many hundreds of CETA employees on September 30 would have caused much chaos. Many people would have gone directly from CETA to welfare and local units of government would have had hundreds of jobs to be done with no one to do them.

This summer, the Dept. of Labor announced that CETA prime sponsors could submit applications to waive this 18-month limit. Northern Michigan makes up about half the area known as Balance of State. Total applications for waivers in the Balance of State were 580 to continue to December 31, and 181 to continue for up to a year beyond that date. All 761 of these waivers were

Cheers for Canada's 'first lady'

RICHARD MILLIMAN

MARK DOWN THE name of Maureen McTeer. My fearless prediction is that all of us will hear a great deal more from and about her.

McTeer is the wife of Canada's newly elected Prime Minister Joe Clark, and the record she eventually will inscribe in our below-the border consciousness will be much different than the celebrated former wife of the former Canadian prime McTeer was described in a recent magazine article as "tough, feisty, determined, single-minded and uncompromisingly independent". She sounds like all of those.

For example, she refuses to take her husband's name, even though he has been eminently successful in his chosen field of politics and government; this independence causes some concern among her fellow Canadians.

"IT'S JUST AS important for me to have my career and name as it is for my husband to have his," declares the 27year-old mother of a 2-year-old daughter.

'I know it upsets a lot of women, who write and tell me that being the wife of a prime minister and the mother of a child should be enough for me. But I simply don't see it that way."

The magazine article describes McTeer as "a sophisticated and experienced politician who crisscrossed Canada campaigning for her husband 16 hours a As an aside from me, that was probably more valuable to Joe Clark, who is 40, than the mere fact of having a wife with the same surname as his.

McTEER HAS HER own approach to politics and public service.

'I was taught by my father at a very early age that I had a responsibility to get involved in the political process, that I had no right to complain unless I participated in our democracy," she said.

'Now that Joe has made it, I have no intention of retiring or taking a back-in politics? National columnist Richard Reeves apparently thinks there is, at least from one direction. Reporting on a recent visit of Republican presidential hopeful Howard Baker in Detroit, Reeves reported that the loudest response from Baker's visit before the stolid Detroit Economic Club came after a question-and-answer exchange that went something like this:

'QUESTION: You are reported as saying that you will never mention Chappaquiddick. Don't you think you owe it to the American people to question the character and competence under pressure of a possible president like Sen. Edward F. Kennedy'

"ANSWER from Sen. Baker: No. There is a great danger that as a result of Watergate and other events, the political arena has become so tough and mean that presidents, senators and candidates cannot function. I am so deeply concerned by the savagery in American politics, about the lack of civilty in American politics, about the injection of collateral and unimportant issues, about the personalizing of politics, that I simply will not do that.

According to Reporter Reeves, the applause which followed was "spontaneous, enthusiastic and long.'

WHY SUCH AUDIENCE endorsement of the candidate's response? Reeves said it was a major discussion point aboard Baker's plane on the return to Washington.

"The concensus of the senator, three staff members and one reporter was that the crowd was just fed up with what is passing for politics these days — jogging, cocaine and the killer rabbitt," Reeves reported. "It is getting ridiculous ..."

Horrah and three cheers. The same goes for Jerry Ford's equilibrium, Ronald Reagan's hair color, the size of John Connally's ranch, or other non-essential gossip. Campaigning and politics - especially on the presidential level -- should be designed to do more than titillate and arouse; unfortunately, many politicians - and more importantly, their backers seem to believe that the only way to advance your own cause is by tearing

Lansing-Although the year compared to last. 1979 deer season is not expected to break any records, as happened last year, the Department of Natural Resources still expects hunters to take a combined total of at least 130,000 deer during the archery season starting October 1 and the firearm season beginning November

Last year saw a number of records shattered, including most bucks taken statwide (106,990), most bucks taken in southern lower Michigan (23,660), most deer taken by archers (25,130), most archers hunting (205,700), most licensed firearm deer hunters (747,028) most deer taken muzzleloaders (730), most muzzleloader deer hunters (21,160), most total deer taken by all hunters (170,840), and most deer taken by landowner permittees (5,230).

Additionally, the 1978 season had the highest hunter's choice anterless kill (37,990) since 1969, according to Joe Vogt, DNR deer expert.

'With so many records set a year ago, I expect hunters will be somewhat disappointed this fall," Vogt explains. "But with that many deer taken, and with three successive severe winters in a row, the deer population has got to

Even so, Vogt says the estimated deer population statewide will still be quite large.

"Our spring pellet survey found that an estimated 700,000 deer survived the winter. With new spring births, that number should be about 900,000 deer by now," he says. The deer population just prior to the opening of deer season during the past three years has been slightly over one million.

"I expect a sizable decrease in the buck kill this year," Vogt says, "but it could still be in the vicinity of 80,000. Hunter's choice kill should approach 33,000, and the bow and arrow kill could reach

Car-deer collisions, usually a good indicator of the general deer population, were down 11 percent statewide during the January-July period this

The Saga Of Jasper Courtney

It happened this way. The winter of '89 was, beyond recall, the worst the AuSable River valley had come up against. It chilled men, even as they walked through the woods. Some said that if you stood still, for only a few you would minutes, literally freeze into a solid chunk. It fogged men's minds and made their thinking slow, forgetful.

On the night of January 25. Jasper Courtney, a shanty boy for the C and A Timber Company wandered out of his cabin, and mistook the barely frozen river as a path into the town of Grayling. He fell through the ice, needless to say, and his body floated downriver, under the ice. They found him in the spring, his hand still clenched around the lantern, a dim smile still playing across his face.

The night of his funeral, all the loggers he had acted as errand boy for, all the men he had polished shoes for, and all the men he had carried tools for took up a collection in his memory. Mostly they drank and talked of Jasper's never ending capacity to pop up when he was needed most! He had a spirit found only in a few men, they said, to always be available when needed, and to offer a ready smile.

It is in this spirit that the Downtown Merchant's Association wishes to adopt Jasper, the shanty boy, and to offer to the community his spirit of helpfulness and northern Michigan his enthusiasm.

"Wow . . . what a story." "Now, there's a real article." So go our reactions to writing that stimulates. But, before a word is written, a good writer must first bave something to say and know how best to say it.

Poe, Stakespeare and Margaret Mitchell . . . they had something in common . . . pens of power. They had the tare gift of being able to transport readers into another world of beauty, drama, or bistory itself. Passing years cannot dim the luster of their immortal works.

Yet, long before the days of these great authors, four other writers spoke to a needy world through their pens. They wrote about a man from Hazareth whose life changed the world. Divinely inspired, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John still testify today to the truth of the risen Savior.

There was something about his name ... If only I could remember ... I watched him as he cleaned off my desk, a smile still on his face. And then it hit me. The AuSable River Timber Company ... A logging accident. Was it the winter of '89? The stories about a shanty boy, his spirit not dyeing. Then he looked at me and knodded. "Yes, I am the lad. And I am here now to help you with your sales and to make your customers happy. And since we know how many seeds are in this pumpkin, why not let everyone else have a little fun and guess." "And let's give a $50 cash prize to the winner!" I said, caught up in his excitement.
"And so that everyone can see the pumpkin we'll put it in the old Grayling Office Supply store downtown and put free entry

Wild rice, a delicious, nutritious, high-protein food is not really rice - it's the grain of a coarse grass, a dark, slategray instead of white or brown like rice.

How Many Seeds Does A

"Who cares!" I said, then looked around to see that I was all by myself. "Oh no, I've been working too hard preparing for the Halloween Moonlight Madness Sale", I murmured, and again bent back over my desk.

A hundred seeds?? Five hundred? Maybe a thousand? I shook my head, but the voice persisted. Come on, guess. It's an awfully big pumpkin".
I leaned back in my chair and stretched - and there before me-well, I couldn't believe what I was seeing, and rubbed my eyes. But sure enough, there before me, not two feet away, a young boy slowly appeared! He was dressed as a woodcutter, no, a shanty boy, of nearly one hundred years ago. He could not have been more than ten or twelve years old. Everything about him indicated that he was from another time, his speech, clothes, the way he wore his hair.

He picked the pumpkin up from my desk. "How many seeds do you think there are in this 'ere pumpkin? You must have thought about it before."

"No ..." I heard myself reply. "No, I've been too busy getting my store ready for a sale and ...

"But you can count, can't

I was still too stunned by his appearance to answer.

"I know you can count," he aughed, "so come on. Let's have some fun!" He pulled a knife out of the sheath hanging from his belt and carved out the top of the

The next thing I knew the inner contents of the pumpkin were on my desk and he was counting the seeds. Then I had to laugh too! Some fun 'was' in order to relieve much merchandise. This was just what I needed!
"Who are you?" I asked, during a pause.

"Why, Jasper Courtney, of course," he replied, as if I should have known, and we continued counting.

Finally, he jotted the final total down on a sheet of paper. "WOW! Imagine that!" And I smiled back, having to admit he had brightened my day.
